IN BUSINESS BY LAUNCHING A BRAND NEW WEBSITE!

Lehigh Valley, PA -- March 1, 2010

Continuing their tradition of providing top-notch customer service, TechniCom Audio & Visual, Inc. has marked their 30th year in business by investing in their customers' website experience. In order to create a convenient yet information-packed browsing experience, TechniCom rebuilt their website from scratch. Not only does the completely redesigned website better serve TechniCom's current clientele, but it reinforces their reputation as a premier provider of audio visual services, continuing to uphold their standard of excellence.

The fresh, streamlined look of the new website is a perfect showcase for the many types of events and installation projects that TechniCom provides, with photos detailing specific examples of how new technology increases productivity while saving time and money. Expanded informational sections go beyond the basics to fully explain the available options and equipment, allowing you to choose the perfect solution for each audio visual need or event concept.

The team at TechniCom specializes in much more than just providing flawless meeting and event production. They also boast decades of experience in the installation of new equipment and the seamless integration of existing systems with upgraded components.
